

GAME RULES

TEXAS HOLD'EM

1. The dealer must deal two cards to each player, face downward and one at a time.
2. The first player to receive a card is the player to the left of the button. The last player to receive cards is the player assigned the button.
3. After all players have received their two cards, there is a betting round.
4. The player to the left of the Big Blind and each following player may call, raise or fold in a clockwise order.
5. The dealer burns the top card of the deck and deals three community cards from the deck face downward and turns them face upward, in the center of the table. Community cards are common to the hand of every active player in the pot.
6. After the flop, the betting continues for another round. The first player still in the pot sitting left of the button opens. After the opening, a player may call, raise or fold.
7. The dealer burns a card and deals another community card face upward in the center of the table. Another betting round occurs. The dealer burns a card and deals another community card face upward in the center of the table for the final betting round.
8. After all bets are made and if there are two or more players remaining in the game, there is a showdown with the best high hand winning the pot.
9. Five face-up cards in the center of the table can be combined with none, one or two cards from each player to determine his best five-card hand.
10. This game can be played High only, High/Low split or Low only.
 - A. For High/Low split the low qualifier may be defined at the time the game is spread. (Often the low qualifier is eight or better, unpaired, straights and flushes being ignored).
 - B. A player can win both the high and the low.
 - C. Aces play as high for the high hand and low for the low hand.
